Hey Paris People, how are you!?

Well, I don't really know who's still here after all this time, but I just wanted to let those who may be interested, or were interested at one time, or used to be interesed and still just might be interested, that we finally have a CD for sale of the songs I posted oh so long ago (all recorded on Paris in my little home studio).

Please check out our website:

http://www.themateswebsite.com/

Thanks a lot!!!

Macle,
Very British sounding. Nice vocal blends and parts. You made a great sounding album with a small amount of gear.
I hope you do well with it. Congrats!
Tom

Thanks Aaron. Good to be here. I've been out of the web scene for a while, so naturally this is the first place I returned to.
Great to see you guys still keeping Paris alive.

Hey DJ, you are too kind! We just hope to find a little niche somewhere on the musical landscape. If we sell the 100 CDs here in this cardboard box, we will jump around the kitchen as if we're number 1 on Billboard.

Thnaks DJ!

Hey,

I still have one of your samples on my desktop from way back when. I like the style a lot, being a British Invasion baby myself. I'm too broke to buy anything now, but my group has a new all-PARIS CD, too, so maybe if you like it, we can swap. :)

Good work,

Sarah

PS: Like the website, too.

You need to get this material to Tony Ferguson at Innerscope. He's the guy who discovered No Doubt. I will be on staff at an event in Park Cities Utah in October. Tony (among others) will be there. If you're interested in attending, e-me at animix@animas.net and I'll maske sure this gets heard.

Hey macle, your songs sound great! I know quite a few A&R guys and Deej's idea of getting your material to Tony Ferguson is a 100% direct hit. Tony would be the number one guy I would submit your songs to first. I think he would like your stuff. I recommend you take Deej up on his offer!

I thought it was a good day since I just got back from seeing Nickel Creek for free. A friend had an extra ticket. Extraordinary show. As good as any in memory.

And now a macle CD! This has turned into a great day!

Thanks, macle!!!!

Hey DJ, wow, thanks, that's very cool!!

Right now we are wrapped up in being a complete DIY indie thing (switching from re-mastering engineer to graphic designer to webmaster to CD packing and distribution, while working on some new room treatment and finally getting down to CD 2 and, oh yeah, almost forgot, writing songs :)).

We sort of are trying to not think about "the biz", and actually kind of enjoying the DIY thing, but, you know, a multi-million dollar deal with chicks and cocaine and someone else to pack the CDs might change our mind (maybe)!

What is the event?

Thanks very much!

Hi Sarah, thanks! I'm the king of broke, so I hear what you're saying. (Maybe we're broke because we're always giving our stuff away?!). Seriously though, The Mates actually made a pact to not give any away, or swap or anything, even to friends or family or even those damn industry people. For a long time, we were giving our CD away, swapping with everyone, giving it away on the net and so on, but since we have this new re-mastered one with packaging and all, we feel we should try to be more real about it, if you know what I mean. Hope that doesn't seem kinda dicky :)

Hey Steve, good to see ya! So cool that so many from the ol' days are still around here.

Thanks very much for buying the CD, appreciate it.

You know, I remember a long while ago, when I posted The Buzz Is Over here, and you said it was the first song in a long while that you felt compelled to pick out the chords like a Beatle song. That meant a lot to me, very inspiring. That sort of comment is what keeps you going when feel like giving up.

So thanks very much Steve!

I'll get back to you with more details in the next few days. I have a couple of calls out right now to the organizers. If he's interested the first thing Tony (or any A&R guy) will want to know is if you're ready to perform this material live (as in 'giggin locally and on the road"). The fact that you have a radio ready CD is a big plus. The fact that you guys are from LA is also a plus. A & R guys like to walk in to a readymade money machine-act with strong local following/draw piotential if at all possible. If you've done a lot of self promotion and are making money due to your own efforts and they can just sign you and get that money themselves is always a plus in their book Whether or not there's enough in it for you to make it worth your while is another matter altogether.

Btw, some people are commenting on the sound (thanks!). Must be listening to the clip I have on the website. Those snippets are before the re-mastering, so (hopefully) the CD will sound better than that.

Okay, thanks, sorry to be bogarting the board with this :).

I think that what I'm hearing was well mixed. I have ordered the CD and am looking forward to hearing the remastered version.

Alright, cool.

Yeah, that's the thing, all the stuff you mention, not sure if we're really at the place they would want or need (we're not playing live, for example). Plus, based on the experience we had before, not sure if we really want to deal with that stuff right now (long story).

But, you never know!

Thanks very much DJ.

;o).....well..... I'm gonna spread this around a little bit.....

http://www.ksut.org/underwriters.cfm

http://www.kdur.org/

http://www.997thepoint.com/

It's a small town here with a local liberal arts college with lots of kids from all over the place.....very active music scene.

I don't know how successful I'll be, but I have met the program directors for these stations and they all have had various opportunity hours for local indy projects to get airplay. You guys aren's local, but I am and I record some of the artists who these guys know, so I'll try to sneak something in under the radar.

Dicky? You mean like those fake shirt collar things guys used to wear back in the sixties? I always thought guys would look cute in nothing but dickies and shoes. :)

OK, fine then, I'm going to just buy your damn CD . . . that'll teach ya.
I'm only broke cuz I've been in school for four years, but I start working on monday, so I think I can afford support my local PARISites.

No, you're not being dicky. A little persnickety maybe, but not dickey.
But I understand completely. We're not giving many of ours away either cuz we're not looking at this one as a demo . . . it's all shrinkwrapped and bar-coded and has a 16 page lyric booklet full of professional artwork, and the nice man who paid for the manufacturing would probably prefer that we try to sell it rather than give it away. But still, you want people to hear it, so it's always so tempting to just go to a mall and pass them out. :)

Good luck,

Sarah

Before this thread dissapears, let me say congrats on your completion of your efforts. Great to here you're for sale.

I know you said you wanted to keep things unsigned etc, but have you considered CD Baby? You don't have to sign your life away, and they make the whole sales process automatic. All you do is send them a box of disks here and there and your work is done. They take like 9% (from memory) or $5 a disk and the rest is yours.

....PLUS you get on Itunes I believe... :o)

Just a thought...

Good luck with it though. You guys deserve some success. :o)

Cheers,

Kim.

Wooooooohoooooo!!!! It's about time!!!!

Of course, now I have to wait until I'm employed again (cowardly bastards I used to work for decided to eliminate my position when I got back from vacation three weeks ago....still job hunting.)

But the instant I have disposable income again, I'm ordering me one of those! The original mp3's have been living on myPod ever since you posted them, and are some of my favorite tracks!

Ha! Yeah, er, I suppose that would be cute. I imagine it would be pretty cute if a girl wore that, too. In fact, don't tell anyone, but I've seen a couple, ummmm...films, that featured a girl in nothing but dickies and shoes. Although the dickies were of a different sort. The girl still looked cute though. Well, not cute really. More sort of dirty filthy hot.

Uh, what we were talking about?

Persnickety...great word.

Oh yeah, thanks very much for buying the CD Sarah!! Appreciate it!

-Dicky Persnickey (my new name, left the "t" out, rhymes better.)

Hey Kim, thanks for that, that could be a great idea. We will check into that for sure. I seem to recall Neil mentioning something like that a while back.

Btw, thanks very much for letting me spam here, I appreciate it.
I know that's usually frowned upon. Hopefully, if anyone is annoyed, they are not too annoyed.

It's so cool so many are still here and using Paris.

Thanks Kim!

Hey Paul, yes, it's quite a miracle we finally got it out. Nearly as miraculous as a Paris 4 update! Really glad you are still digging this stuff. Best of luck with the job search, that sucks!

Hehe, well sometimes we bend the rules for ex-paris members anyhow. So long as it's of interest to the general population here, and you clearly have a bit of a fan club here, including myself, so you're always welcome. :o)

Cheers,
Kim.

I just wish that Colorgraphics or somebody would make a 6 head AGP graphics card with a gig of VRAM based on an NVidia chipset so it would share IRQ's nicely with other devices on the PCI bus.

Get a three headed monster and three Matrox thingies.

Not a bad price actually.....but this concerns me:

WTF happens if your monitors don't support 2560 x 1024?

You know you want to.

Not a bad price actually.....but this concerns me:

outputs, allowing you to run your Windows desktop at up to 2560 x 1024 =

WTF happens if your monitors don't support 2560 x 1024?

DJ,
6 monitors for everyone!!!

What about that Matrox thingy that splits one VGA into two with no = software?
Get a three headed monster and three Matrox thingies.

Or stick with the dual head and get two of these:

Yep, it does. And it seems that every Human Resources director in the two-state region is on vacation right now...

I'm hoping for an A/V technician gig at the Shedd Aquarium in Chicago.
Fish, whales, dolphins, and sound/video toys. Ahhhhhh.....

I'll pass the website link along to Peterik, since as you remember he went nuts over the demos.

Sounds cool. You can autotune a singer, but you can't autotuna fish...or something like that.

Alright, thanks Paul.

And thanks everyone here, especially those who bought the CD,

Hey, Macle!

Man, it's good to see you here once again. I still have your original clips on my iPod and in iTunes, still listening and still enjoying. Like I said some years ago, this stuff definitely deserves to get played and reach a wider audience. (Glad some folks here feel the same way and apparently know some of the right people.) Best of everything with finally getting the CD done!

Off to buy one right now...

Cheers,
Larry Hogan

I just listened to it while on a day trip down into New Mexico. This is some very good sutff Macle. Among other topics, I think you guys have written the first song I've ever heard with the topic being a about a menstural period.....and you did it very well. Damn!!! I couldn't believe it. ;o)

I think It's All About You has the makings of being a serious hit song, but I also think some of the others do too, especially I Want Some of What You're On. You guys have some great hooks, both musical and lyric and you get to them quick and nail the listener.....asnd then the song stays in the listener's head.. I listened to the CD straight through 3 times and didn't hear anything that bored me or that I disliked. /that's the test for me and IMHO, there aren't any filler/throwaway songs on it.

Nice Stuff.

;o)

Woah DJ, that is a great review, thank you very much. It's weird, but even though I posted most of these up and got lots of great feedback a while ago, finally putting out this CD, I've got that same sort of nervous feeling you get when you sort of stick your neck out there. "It's crap, they hate it!" floats around in my head. Plus the worry that it's old news (although not to most of the world out there).

Thanks again. As I keep saying, this board is the best!

I've been doing a little playing around with a new reverb processor tonight and about the time I wwaent brain dead from readiong the manual and tweaking the parameters, all of a sudden I realized that This Sucks was really bouncing around in my headspace. That's another really good one. I'm going to take one of the CD's over to my buddy who knows Tony Ferguson tomorrow.
We're setting up the expo gig in Park Cities right now. I want to see what his teenage daughter (high school seniors) and her friends think about this CD. I think This Sucks may ge a generational anthem.....sort of like For What It's Worth by Stephen Stills/Buffalo Springfield was for my generation. Fingerprints is cool.....very catchy musical arrangement for such a dark topic. You pulled that one off well too.

Cheers,

DJ

Thanks DJ! People are going to think I'm paying you to say all this stuff! Will be interesting to hear what those girls think. We wanted this to have some sort of appeal in different ways...accessible and fun, but not just cheesy teen pop, modern but vintage, even in a goofball song like This Sucks, tried to inject some sarcastic humor and some Beatley things...

anyway, thanks very much!
