At a recent session the drummer was the first to arrive, heres how the conversation went:

ME: So how many piece kit are we recording today

Drummer: ahh.....7

ME: Really, doesn't look like that many cases, your not counting the cymbals are you?

Drummer: ahh, yes sorry, its a 5 piece kit'
ME: So then, kik, snare and 3 toms?

Drummer: no, kik snare and one tom

ME: ahh.....so thats 3 then.

Drummer: and a floor tom

ME: ok, (smacks head) SO....a 4 piece kit, kik snare and 2 toms?

Drummer: NO, one tom and a floor

ME: Right... (I really didn't want to ask this next question) How many people are in the band today, the instrument lineup

Drummer: there is .....Drums.....bass....2 guitars, 3 singers, acoustic guitar and keyboards.

ME: Really..... 9 people

Drummer: no..... 5

ME: so... some of the people who play also sing and double up on other instruments?

Drummer: ah yeah

I had one more question about how many songs they were doing, but I left that for the next persson to show up.
