I need an external SATA enclosure for the G5 (PCI-X) Mac. Has anyone used any you'd recommend?

I seek a system that's affordable, runs cool, runs quiet and uses removable HD trays that aren't overpriced.

I'll also need a PCI-X SATA card.

Cheers,

-Jamie

Hi Jamie,

The Granite Digital ones are pretty good.

I've got the XT enclosure with a Teracard for the Macbook Pro, but could not try it, simply because the new Mac didn't arrive yet. Plugged in via FW it works great, is fast and quiet. It also has a USB 2 connection.
