I just posted about this over at GS, I need some opinions from Paris users. This is regarding a mix due today. here is the scenario, I am running this mix through a pair of BAE 312;s for some coloration, the thing sounds great perfect absolutely brilliant, don't touch a thing type or deal, however, as I was dumping the mix down, I noticed on snare hit clipping the 8in lights...just one snare hit in the whole song. Now I tried muting the snare tracks, and of course the clip lights did not fire. So, I tried grouping the snare tracks and ducking them with automation, no good, even all the way down they still clip! So the only way to avoid this is to back down the submix faders goin inot the 312's but I really feel this is diminsihing the enitre mix. I want to know if it should just let it slide, as I can not hear it, and the mix sounds better over all left alone and hot.,

I do rememebr BT sayin clipping the lights was ok on drums no?

Anyway, this track is maybe one of the coolest things I have ever worked on, to all or any of you Clash fans out there, this is gonna blow your minds (i hope!)
So thanks for the help.

Well, another vote in that direction.
It is of course the mix buss return clipping. so I want to be careful,

What do you mean by mix bus return? are you inserting a piece of gear onto the mix bus? if so attenuate slightly there.

Attenuated to the max!
I talked to one ME who told me not to worry about it.
Looking for a few more votes too.

Just let it slide :-)

Bjorn R (Clash fan)

PS. What's a pair of BAE 312's?

yeah dude, I'm going with the Red means it's on thing here.. audio is about ears more than meters. You dont hear it? don't sweat it.
And yea, BT said a little red red on the clippy is ok.. it's sustained notes that don't vibe with red on the 8 in.

I am Cujo over there too,

Mastering.

A big whig ME just called me and said not to worry either.

I do hear it now, but it is not unmusical, more like an extra cracking snare.

Brent Averill 312 Mic PRe's,

The Clash were one of the great bands of all time for sure. Pure I would call em.

Underated by people who do not know anything but "rock the casbah" and "Should I Stay Or Should I Go" (not bad for little singles though)

Their album "London Calling" was named the best album of the 80's, by Rolling Stone Magazine, despite the fact that it was released in '79. I saw them in concert in 1981, great rock'n roll. Too bad that Joe Strummer went away.

If it's just one clip & it bugs you, but you don't want to change the sound you've got going, don't forget you could always just edit that one peak down a bit lower.

You mean in a wave editor?
yeah I thought of that, but I mut admit to being a tad paraniod about any unwanted side effects.

I tried the auommtion deal, no worries, the mix has been approved,

So, you sound like a real fan, I was lucky to catch the "real" Clash in about 1982 then followed the "cut The Crap" lineup for about 6 shows (they were still good) and I saw 2 Strummer Mescalero shows whcih were hands down the best of all.

His 3 Mescalero discs are all great, but I like the first. I think Topper headon may be one of rocks greatest unknown drummers.

Ok, I have to tell you about this project, it is a compilation of 37 bands doing a tribute to "Sandinista" bands on it besides mine are The Smithereens, Camper Van Beethoven, Steve Wynn (Dream Syndicate), Jason Ringenberg and many many more. My band (The Blizzard of 78) has collaborated with Reggae star Mikey Dread, who worked on 5 or so tunes on the original, The track is a lot of fun. But I look forward to hearing the rest of the stuff on this thing too, should be very interesting.

Some great musicians there. And Mickey Dread is a legend, didn't they even mention him in one of their songs? Never got into Jones (B.A.D.) or Strummers solo stuff. I think they were kind of Lennon/McCartney, best together. And Topper Headon is underrated, I think he even produced or co-produced Combat Rock. What song are your band doing?

Bjorn R

PS. Some Clash fans mistook me for beeing Paul Simonon once, at a bar the Clash supposed to attend after a consert. I played along, have had a few beers. I even wrote autographs. (I was young then :-)

Looking forward to hear this record.

Bjorn R (who look more like Robert Duvall these days :-)
