Hey Tony, sweet! Your drum setup is a lot like my setup, three toms and two floors, only I've got double kicks.

Hey, nice rack! (err.... I mean the rack for mounting the toms & cymbals on).

That's a nice setup, there, Tony. What's the I see off to your left near the hats - is that a drum pad/e-drum rig of some kind? Can't tell.

Thanks James. I've got a DW 7000 double pedal. Email me a pic of your kit if you get a chance.

Thanks Neil! That "thing" is a Roland SPD-S sampling percussion pad. It's pretty cool. Using DP, I build up the samples, hits, etc. I need, save the wav or aiff files to a compact flash card. Pop the card into the SPD-S, assign the samples to a pad, and viola! Here's a link with some info:

It's not a drum kit without a cowbell! I don't pussy foot around either. An LP Rock Ridge "classic" cowbell is located directly over the left side of my hi hat.
