Subject: Possible power outage today on NG...

Just so you know, it's going to be 42C today in Melbourne, possibly more, which is kinda unusual in these parts. I think the all time record is 44.

Hence there will be a lot of air conditioners running, and a lot of power consumed, and this often means that a couple of suburbs might lose power. If so, that magic UPS that people kindly donated for should keep us up for a couple of hours, but any longer outage and the group might go bye bye for a bit.

Just a heads up... :o)

Cheers,
Kim.

Well, the western desert lives & breathes, in 45 degrees.

Hehe. Yes. The left think it's scary because he's sold out. The right think it's scary because he's got power...

Ironic. ;o)

And the stupid think it's just cool that a rock star can get elected, which is something the intelligent might want to learn from. :o)

Cheers,
Kim.

Hmmm.....intelligent talkings the last day in the year....hmmm;-)

Let's come well into the New Year, if it's cold or hot. Here, we're half in the last day, not a cloud on the sky and it's about minus 2C, without any snow. Perfect weather and perfect living here to see thousands of $ exploding in the air.
So again, come well into The New Year, all of you:-)
