Bush came to central N.J. this week for a republican fundraiser.

He announced that Africa had some problems and that we should help!

"The soul of America is enriched when we help those who need help," the president told the crowd of 700 supporters at the New Jersey Convention and Exposition Center.

I thought this picture of the audience was priceless.

Did I mention The New Jersey Convention and Exposition Center was picked because its 150,000 square ft could easily handle 6000 expected Bush supporters? The officials at the event said 700 showed. The local paper said it was more like 300 and a big chunk were press.

The union guys that put up the partitions must have been working overtime.

Well........he just lost whatever conservative support he had with the

Deej,

You must know what the immigration conumdrum is all about don't you?
Watch as over the next decade a movement appears to create a North American Union, like the EU. This is for one reason only: to be able to create a single currency so it is easier to control Mexico, USA and Canada simultaneously, with bids coming from South American countries to join in coming decades.

I heard some stats where right now the average American (household?) is $500K in debt. That's called, "Owing your soul to the company store".
Plain and simple: economic slavery.

Personally I think hard work is good for people -- when it's their choice. But I don't like to see people working just to try to keep up with their debt, and mothers with no choice but to work rather than raising their kids.

500k is totally wrong. I have always heard $10k to $20k figures and that seems more reasonable to how much debt the average American has. 500k,....no way

Mortgage is debt, just a thought.

Precisely, mortgage debt. This figure was in the news recently.

that has to figure in people like sleeping with fists and myself with no debt. other than daily living expenses and prop taxes. the house is paid off and no car loans. in fact we haven't borrowed money for a car since 79. that's when se started prepaying ourselves for the next car on a monthly basis. it's my turn next year for the new car though i may wait one more year to see what hybrids or electrics come out.

You need to borrow some money and buy me some stuff then. It will help you to conform while enhancing your karma.
