Hi Folks -

A number of months ago, I checked with Aaron A, who produced the BT Paris Instructional DVD, regarding its copyright status, and was assured that the spirit and intent of all involved in its production would now allow for its free distribution to any Paris user who wanted a copy.

SO - I have a small CD/DVD dup/rep business going and would like to offer free copies (DVD-Rs) of the Brian Tankersley/Aaron Allen Paris Instructional DVD to anyone who would like one. All you have to do is send me your mailing address and I will copy it for you and mail it out. No charge. I'll even cover the postage for those in North America. I'm afraid S America, Europe, Aus etc are a bit out of my reach for free postage, but anyone who wants to send me a cheque to cover mailing from those locales will also get the disc copied gratis.

There is a time limit on this offer - the end of this calendar year. Orders have to be received by Dec 31, 2009.

Please notify me by email at: tedgerberatrogersdotcom with the subject heading BT/Paris DVD. I will reply with confirmation. (If you don't hear back from me within 48 hours, please try again, your original request may have gone to my junk file...)

Peace

Ted
