If we don't get sources from all sides, not only one side, we will grow up without wisdom at all in our minds. The documentations I for the most have found was not only "made in Europe", there were plenty of American documents too. I wanted to find out something from different sides, trying to find some understandings. You see, I had to find out why my father had to be killed in the second worldwar because of different leaders stupidity and I must say I found out a whole lot, as you may have seen with my struggling writings here up against the year:-).

Take care, Don
