Hi All, and Mike A., I hope you can help me out.

I am having an new issue that happens intermittently but frequently.

Upon trying to start Paris 3.0 lately, the project window gets partially drawn then I get the error:
Unhandled exception coooooo5 at 0048c425

I have windows xp, on an amd athlon single core

2 eds cards, 2 c-16, 2 8in

I have Mike's latest driver, which corrected a blue screen error I was getting before I installed it, but the project window also comes up slower since then; but it had been working until I had to reload paris because it wouldn't start because of a missing vst plugin file and the unhandled exception problems seemed to start after that. Does paris not tolerate the native vst plugs well? I had never used them before.

After that, I tried an uninstaller to completely get rid of Paris before reloading it but the problem still occurs.

I noticed the error listed in the wiki, but it didn't give any possible solutions.

I would appreciate any suggestions.

Thanks!

John
