Hi all.

I've been receiving a fair amount of spam from greetingcard.org over here (which is par for the course for administering a website). But sometimes it purports to be originating from my admin email address. Now, it's pretty simple to spoof an email address, and the forum's server's on Linux and I'm on a Mac running OSX so we aren't liable to PC virus issues. But I wanted to check in and make certain nobody's receiving any spam purporting to be from myself or the forums.

Thanks - K
