Heya Philip - the ADAT manual was definitely harder to find than the other ones. But it's in the "Reference Library" at the Wiki along with all the other docs I'm collecting. You need to sign up for the Wiki (free and automatic, of course) to access the library.

But you can also still access the ADAT manual directly at Doug's ParisFAQs site. It's trickier to navigate to now the links there are mostly 404'd, but this link should take you directly to it.

Hope that helps!
