Subject: Need help with Peak 3.0
Posted by Stevehwan on Sun, 06 May 2007 16:53:55 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Is anybody using Peak 3.0? I want to put a whole project of 14 songs in as a single wav file, then split it up into I think they call it regions, then move it over to Toast and burn the CD. The unique situation is this.... all these songs over lap and can't have 2 seconds between them. Who will help out ol'
Steve

Subject: Re: Need help with Peak 3.0
Posted by gene lennon on Sun, 06 May 2007 18:27:58 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Long time since 3.X. In 5/6 you can define regions and convert regions to Most of the advanced features came after 3. The good news is that Bias will upgrade from any previous version for a fairly low cost.

My memory is hazy, but I thought you could add song starts right inside the early versions of Jam.
Gene

"Steve Cox" <stevec1@charter.net> wrote:
>
>Is anybody using Peak 3.0? I want to put a whole project of 14 songs in as
>a single wav file, then split it up into I think they call it regions, then >move it over to Toast and burn the CD. The unique situation is this....
all >these songs over lap and can't have 2 seconds between them. Who will help >out ol'
>Steve
>