Anyone here use Vegas video editing software? Is it any good for making a basic, but at least halfway-decent, music video for a band to upload to Youtube or their Myspace page, etc.?

I believe that's what Aaron used to make the BT DVD...

Yes, Vegas can do a great job of making a half way decent music video.

It can even do a great job of making a great music video. :-)

Vegas is a really good NLE and Vegas editors I know that also use Final Cut and/or Avid prefer Vegas' workflow. Their hurdle is that Vegas isn't widely accepted in the commercial market, but it competes in capabilities.

It's way more capable than it appears on the surface.

I know of at least one pro editor here in Sydney that uses it and he has become so popular that he's had to expand to a much bigger location. He says that it's as powerful as ANY of the big 3 .. (Avid, FCP and Premiere Pro).

His work is always fantastic, too
