So...

The Telco says it's not their problem. I say it's not mine.

It MIGHT be the cable from the street to the house, but who knows.

Suffice to say I'm going to have to get them back again, and at a time when I can be present and check their work.

That said, the group, for me at least, usually works, which is, err, better than usually not working. ;o)

Cheers,
Kim.
