Hey Jamie - how's everything going? I'm thinking I need a break and a trip to Denver next week - what's your lunch schedule like? I might hit a Guitar Center if you're interested (not that there is anything overly compelling about Guitar Center in general, but it seems to be all we have left for gear-window shopping these days. ;-)

Regards,
Dedric

There's a guy in the drum section of one of the Denver GC's who is probably still trying to find an electronic cowbell for Arron and me.

;o)

Hey Dedric,

Sounds like fun, I might be able to get away for lunch next Wednesday.
Give me a shout...

Cheers,
-Jamie

Heh, we'll have to see if he was successful! How many electronic cowbells should we pick up for you guys?

I'm also hoping Jamie can teach me how to distinguish between the "Subject" field and "To" field when emailing. Probably a lost cause this week. lol.

Sorry about that!

I'm hoping to find the new infra-red cowbell at GC...

I still need to check out your new place, John!

I'll talk to Dedric and we'll see what's possible. If not this time, then next time!

Cheers,

If you can do it in SE Denver by my new studio, I may be able to join in for an hour--I start pre-production with an artist from Alaska that came down to work with me on a tight schedule, or I'd meet anywhere... :)

Well.....there is a new (really good) Mexican restaurant here and the Aspens are already starting to turn. The sagebrush is blooming and looks flourescent and you can fill your car up with ripe apples..
