We've been all night in the ICU with my son who has evidently had a brain hemorage. We're still awaiting clear understanding of the prognosis, but would appreciate any prayers that can be offered on his behalf.

His name is JOshua, already a cancer surviving 11 year old now with another battle to fight.

THanks all,

Jeff

Joshua is doing well and the news from the neurosurgeon is positive.
After getting an MRI they are convinced the area of concern is NOT cancer, which was a complete flip from their position in the wee hours this morning. The immediate danger seems to have subsided and for that we are extremely thankful.

Thanks so much for your prayers and support.
