Hey lads - posted this in the PAF sticky, but no one seems to have noticed, so I'm creating a new topic for it.

I was wondering what the latest is with PAF support in Reaper. Did the 64-bit OSX library ever get released? Neither the thread here nor on the cuckos forums have been updated if so.

Also, has there been any progress on the PARIS project file front? Any chance we'll see PPJs opening in Reaper at any point?

Thanks all, hope you're having a grand new year.

I must have missed this - sorry Matt! The wrapper is still in the same place it was a couple of years back - works perfectly in Windows, but has a bug on Mac OSX at 24 bits. We don't have the file docs for PPJ so we can't easily build a translator, but if they turn up it would quickly rise on the priority list.
