Just finished the last two Christmas songs mixes done in PARIS through my API Box mini console for my wife and my Christmas project..... enjoy!

I forgot to add that I clocked PARIS via Wordclock to my Lynx Hilo, and that I captured the PARIS/API mix into my Mac Studio via the Hilo converters.

I've been looking to form the best hybrid analog/digital past/present combo to have my own unique mix sound. No matter what converters I used I kept coming back to my PARIS mixes sounding so full and musical, so I've been buying up PARIS gear the past year to mix out of, and I love the tone I'm getting. I would love to add a quality stereo EQ on my API stereo bus insert, but for now I'm happy with my results.

Hi Will,

Really enjoyed your new Christmas music, and great production! Well done!

Here's a New Year song written by my son-in-law Todd MacLean. Vocal features his wife (my daughter) and I, and the production was done on my PARIS rig. Hope you enjoy it!

Best wishes,

Gordon Belsher

Also - Will - I posted on the Facebook Paris page with your link to YouTube

I read your comment "for anyone wanting to listen to the full project. Enjoy" as an open invite.

Hope that's OK :)

Ted

Thanks Ted, it's a labor of love making Christmas music with my wife.

Feel free to post the link anywhere, it's our musical Christmas card to the world.
