Has anyone used the waves tape emulators in Paris either on channels or inserted on the main out? I see they have VST versions but I don't know if they work in Paris. I was thinking of using tape on the main outs in my final mix down while staying in the digital scene all the way through CD finalizing. I am using windows 8.1 64 bit on my computer. It has 16 gb of rham and all kinds of solid state hard drives. I built it myself over a year ago and I have to admit it has kicked butt with Mikes' stuff which I know how to use but do not understand all the ya ya stuff about the software. I give all those kudos to Mike and Kerry and all the previous Skunks, even Brian T. has helped me out, and by the way Brian, if you want a copy of your CD I will be glad to send you my original Cd because I have it dumped on my computer since I still refer to it once in a while . Any opinions on these matters would be greatly appreciated. Paris still rocks ! Thanks, Rich Included is a picture of my Malamute, Samson. He is the only one enjoying all this stupid snow. Ugggggggg!!!!
