

---

Subject: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Jeremy Luzier on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 17:56:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the studio.

luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.

however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video card, processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives... and i have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to the bios.

i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.

it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by wednesday, next week.

its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new vocal. very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.

is there anyone in nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone has another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick of this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor laying around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few hours.

i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.

some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate any help.

thanks.

---

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by [Deej \[4\]](#) on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 17:57:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Jeremy,

I can probably help.

Call me. I'll be headed down to the UPS store later today. I can overnight you the stuff that you need.

Deej

970-375-7081

"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote in message
news:45e864a9$1@linux...

> About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the studio.

>

> luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.

>

> however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video card, > processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives... and

> i > have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to the > bios.

>

> i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.

>

> it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by wednesday,
> next week.

>

> its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new
> vocal.

> very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.

>

> is there anyone in nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone has > another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick of > this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor laying > around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few hours.

>

> i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here
> monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.

>

> some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate any > help.

>

> thanks.

>

>

>

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Carl Amburn on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 18:29:20 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hey Jeremy,

I would happily import your project into my rig and swap and bounce the tracks for you - if you wanted to go that route.... you'd just need to shoot me a copy of it via cdrom or dvdrom. I'm out of town until Monday, but you are welcome to call if you need. My number is on my site - carlamburn.com good luck,

-Carl

"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote in message
news:45e864a9$1@linux...

> About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the studio.

>

> luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.

>

> however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video card,
> processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives... and

i

> have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to the > bios.

>

> i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.

>

> it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by wednesday,
> next week.

>

> its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new
vocal.

> very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.

>

> is there anyone in nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone has > another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick of
> this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor laying > around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few hours.

>

> i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here
> monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.

>

> some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate any
> help.

>

> thanks.

>

>

>

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Jeremy Luzier on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 19:35:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

thanks Neil and Carl.

Carl- i actually use Nuendo to mix in and then use some stuff in Paris (no-llimit and eq)... i send groups to paris from nuendo and bounce it in Paris... so i cant just send it to you on DVD. thanks for the offer though.

Neil- its not the monitor. i have a couple here that i have tried. thanks for the ideas and the offer.

thanks guys.

"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote in message
news:45e864a9$1@linux...

> About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the studio.

>

> luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.

>

> however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video card,
> processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives... and

i

> have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to the > bios.

>

> i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.

>

> it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by wednesday,
> next week.

>

> its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new
vocal.

> very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.

>

> is there anyone in nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone has

> another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick of
> this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor laying > around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few hours.

>

> i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here
> monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.

>

> some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate any
> help.

>

> thanks.

>

>

>

---

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Jeremy Luzier on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 19:36:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

i thought sandy moved away.

i don't know the other guys.

do you have any numbers?

"John Macy" <spamlessjohn@johnmacy.com> wrote in message news:45e8766f$1@linux...

>

> How about Chris Latham or Sandy Tipping? Both

> Paris users--also, try Dave Latto at Quad Studios,

> I'm sure he still has a system up and running...

>

>

> "Neil" <OIUOIU@OIU.com> wrote:

> >

> >My advice... run down to Best Buy or CompUSA and snag the lowest-

> >end $300 E-Machines PC you can find, load a different OS on it

> >(whichever one you were running Paris on) to get through this one

> >project, then diagnose the other PC later, sell the E-Machines

> >PC as nearly-new for a hundred-dollar loss afterwards & you can > >recoup some of the $. Worth it to keep a client, if you're doing > >this for money.

> >

> >If you're NOT doing it for money, then the client can wait 'til

> >you figure it out, whether that's by this wednesday or twelve > >wednesdays from now.

> >

> >Nice offer from Deej, but you could install everything he sends

> >you & STILL not have a working PC; or I could overnight you my

> >Paris PC - which I'd be happy to do if you're paying for > >shipping - only for you to find out that the problem is your

> >monitor.

> >

> >Neil

> >

> >

> >"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote:

> >>About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the studio.

> >>

> >>luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.

> >>

> >>however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video card,

> >>processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives...
and
> >i
> >>have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to the > >>bios.
> >>
> >>i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.
> >>
> >>it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by wednesday,
> >>next week.
> >>
> >>its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new
vocal.
> >>very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.
> >>
> >>is there anyone is nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone
> has > >>another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick
> >of
> >>this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor laying > >>around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few hours.
> >>
> >>i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here
> >>monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.
> >>
> >>some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate any
> >>help.
> >>
> >>thanks.
> >>
> >>
> >>
> >
>

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Neil on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 19:46:28 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My advice... run down to Best Buy or CompUSA and snag the lowest-end $300 E-Machines PC you can find, load a different OS on it (whichever one you were running Paris on) to get through this one project, then diagnose the other PC later, sell the E-Machines PC as nearly-new for a hundred-dollar loss afterwards & you can recoup some of the $. Worth it to keep a client, if you're doing this for money.

If you're NOT doing it for money, then the client can wait 'til you figure it out, whether that's by this wednesday or twelve wednesdays from now.

Nice offer from Deej, but you could install everything he sends you & STILL not have a working PC; or I could overnight you my Paris PC - which I'd be happy to do if you're paying for shipping - only for you to find out that the problem is your monitor.

Neil

"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote:

>About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the studio.

>

>luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.

>

>however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video card,

>processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives... and

i

>have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to the

>bios.

>

>i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.

>

>it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by wednesday,

>next week.

>

>its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new vocal.

>very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.

>

>is there anyone in nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone has

>another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick

of

>this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor laying

>around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few hours.

>

>i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here

>monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.

>

>some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate any

>help.

>

>thanks.

>

>

>

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by John Macy on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 20:09:35 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

How about Chris Latham or Sandy Tipping? Both Paris users--also, try Dave Latto at Quad Studios, I'm sure he still has a system up and running...

"Neil" <OIUOIU@OIU.com> wrote:

>

>My advice... run down to Best Buy or CompUSA and snag the lowest-
>end $300 E-Machines PC you can find, load a different OS on it >(whichever one you were running Paris on) to get through this one
>project, then diagnose the other PC later, sell the E-Machines
>PC as nearly-new for a hundred-dollar loss afterwards & you can >recoup some of the $. Worth it to keep a client, if you're doing >this for money.

>

>If you're NOT doing it for money, then the client can wait 'til
>you figure it out, whether that's by this wednesday or twelve >>wednesdays from now.

>

>Nice offer from DeeJ, but you could install everything he sends
>you & STILL not have a working PC; or I could overnight you my >Paris PC - which I'd be happy to do if you're paying for >shipping - only for you to find out that the problem is your >monitor.

>

>Neil

>

>

>"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote:

>>About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the studio.

>>

>>luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.

>>

>>however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video card,
>>processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives... and

>i

>>have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to the >>bios.

>>

>>i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.

>>

>>it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by wednesday,
>>next week.
>>
>>its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new vocal.
>>very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.
>>
>>is there anyone is nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone
has
>>another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick
>of
>>this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor laying >>around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few hours.
>>
>>i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here
>>monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.
>>
>>some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate any
>>help.
>>
>>thanks.
>>
>>
>>
>>
>

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Tyrone Corbett on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 20:59:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

>I can probably help.
>
>Call me. I'll be headed down to the UPS store later tioday. I can overnight >you the stuff that you need.

>
>Deej
>
>970-375-7081
>
>Deej, you are the man!!!!

Tyrone

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Sandy Tipping on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 22:44:05 GMT

Hey Jeremy,

I'm still here. It was the other guy (that crazy German) who moved. Just hit the NG first time in a few days. I'll happily let you use my system, it's in town and I'll be down near Brentwood tomorrow. Three cards / WinME.

Call me - 615-299-9107.

Sandy

"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote in message news:45e87bed$1@linux...

>i thought sandy moved away.

>

> i don't know the other guys.

>

> do you have any numbers?

>

>

> "John Macy" <spamlessjohn@johnmacy.com> wrote in message

> news:45e8766f$1@linux...

>>

>> How about Chris Latham or Sandy Tipping? Both

>> Paris users--also, try Dave Latto at Quad Studios,

>> I'm sure he still has a system up and running...

>>

>>

>> "Neil" <OIUOIU@OIU.com> wrote:

>> >

>> >My advice... run down to Best Buy or CompUSA and snag the lowest-

>> >end $300 E-Machines PC you can find, load a different OS on it

>> >(whichever one you were running Paris on) to get through this one

>> >project, then diagnose the other PC later, sell the E-Machines

>> >PC as nearly-new for a hundred-dollar loss afterwards & you can >> >recoup some of the $. Worth it to keep a client, if you're doing

>> >this for money.

>> >

>> >If you're NOT doing it for money, then the client can wait 'til

>> >you figure it out, whether that's by this wednesday or twelve

>> >wednesdays from now.

>> >

>> >Nice offer from DeeJ, but you could install everything he sends

>> >you & STILL not have a working PC; or I could overnight you my

>> >Paris PC - which I'd be happy to do if you're paying for >> >shipping - only for you to find out that the problem is your

>> >monitor.
>> >
>> >Neil
>> >
>> >
>> >"Jeremy Luzier" <j.luzier@comcast.net> wrote:
>> >>About 4 months ago i had some water damage in my house and in the > studio.
>> >>
>> >>luckily, none of my important gear was damaged.
>> >>
>> >>however, my paris computer is dead. i don't know if its the video >> >>card,
>> >>processor or memory. i removed all the eds cards and audio drives...
> and
>> >i
>> >>have swapped out power supplies. it turns on but i can't even get to
> the >> >>bios.
>> >>
>> >>i have reset cmos. i have installed a duplicate used mobo.
>> >>
>> >>it just figures that i have to recall a mix and turn it in by >> >>wednesday,
>> >>next week.
>> >>
>> >>its a very simple recall... i have to replace an old vocal with a new
> vocal.
>> >>very easy to do.... EXCEPT... i don't have paris up and running.
>> >>
>> >>is there anyone in nashville who might be able to help? maybe someone
>> has
>> >>another matrox video card i could try in the box... maybe another stick
>> >of >> >>this old memory... ddr pc2700... or maybe an old XP2600 processor >> >>laying >> >>around. or maybe i could borrow someone's paris system for a few >> >>hours.
>> >>
>> >>i could order those.... if i can a processor on ebay that can be here
>> >>monday... but i just don't know exactly what the problem is.
>> >>
>> >>some of that sounds like alot to ask i know. but i would appreciate >> >>any
>> >>help.
>> >>
>> >>thanks.

>> >>
>> >>
>> >>
>> >
>>
>
>

---

---

Subject: Re: I need some serious help in Nashville
Posted by Chris Latham on Mon, 05 Mar 2007 00:52:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hey Jeremy,
I'm pretty tied down tomorrow, but if you'd like to get together Tuesday at the office, we could pull your mix up there. Give me a call... office 742-8081 or cell 347-2025.

Chris Latham

---