Hi guys

I've got a 15 year old guitarist who's fairly decent for his age looking to buy his first real amp. He's got between $500 - $1000 to spend.

His musical tastes are quite varied but he likes that killer Who / AC-DC / Nickelbark power rhythm guitar sound.

Any suggestions

thanks

I just got an Egnater Rebel 20 for the studio that seems to do a lot of things really well....has 2 sets of tubes (6v6's and EL84's) that can be blended as well. Also have a new Rebel 30 that would be in that price range as well. But the 20 will drive any 2x12 with no problem.
