This is the best time of year to buy a Mac because of the promotions. Sign up for underwater basket weaving for the fall and you might be able to score a free iPod now.

Hey Jamie, you might want to check this out.

Cool, looks like Apple has a good promotion for the edu market. I'm holding off until after Monday's Mac Dev keynote, just in case something else comes out that I should consider...

In the past, some people were asking how to get the best deals on Macs, and I mentioned these promotions. This promotion comes around once a year, so I thought I would mention it. The other day Jamie K. said that he was about to buy a MacBook Pro, so I mentioned the money saving promotion for him, and anybody else that would be interested. That's all.
