Hey Jamie,

Thanks for the post. It looks very promising. If I wasn't into vsti's so much these days, it would probably be sitting in my box. Sounds like midi is in Ardour's future. I hope vsti support is also!

Cheers,

MR

As the loudest voice around here (I think) for free software, I'd love to be able to use Ardour. The (incredibly horrible) MIDI and lack of VSTi support are early deal breakers for me. Ardour got a Summer of Code grant from Google to improve the MIDI so at least that's a start.

What I would really like to see, though, is a forward thinking, big player in the audio world pick a distro (probably Ubuntu) and port to it. Ableton would be the most obvious candidate, IMHO, because they're very innovative and I know from personal experience have some free software users. I'm not saying they'd make Live free, but that they'd support it on one distro with a set of supported chipsets/soundcards.

But that's still a long ways off. Some day, though.

I quit using PARIS a while ago. I just hang around to argue about religion and stuff.

But, LOL,

Haha. Hey, I hang around to argue about religion and stuff, too, but I am still using PARIS. :)

God visited a pestilence upon me week before last, I was attacked by bees and stung 5 times. It's payback for something....I'm sure I deserved it..

Wasn't that about the time your last piece of Paris hardware left? ;-)

David.
