Kerry - just wondering, do you hook up word clock of your RME card to Paris and slave to Paris' clock ?
I have just got a digi9652 (limited to running on 32bit sadly) as my Pulsar cards just weren't playing ball, so it's new territory for me.
I did also ask Mike Audet if it might be possible at some point to stream audio in/out of Paris via his new drivers in some way - perhaps using something like Jack Audio which already routes Asio between other asio applications and hardware...
However that's probably a lot of work...and for now I'll be focussing on enjoying the super new drivers.
