If you are looking for a powerful VSTi synth, check out the free one EMU is giving away. This page:

<http://www.emu.com/promo/proteusvx/welcome.asp> gets you started. You have to signup for their online newsletter, but so far, it has not flooded me with annoying emails, and this synth comes with about 1000 patches that cover most anything. I especially like the acoustic and electric pianos included.

Yeah, that's a nice addition man. I have had this synth since I bought my PCI 0202 a few years back, and it's pretty darn useful. Being able to pull it up on my other computers will be very cool.
