I've caught parts of a couple of episodes, but it doesn't hold my interest all that long.

W.,

That Canare Quad is a real drag to unwrap the shield but is great cable. I moved to Mogami because of that.

dio where she gives vocal lessons - she wants to have a CD containing various vocal exercises, rather than burning one at a time containing different exercises for her students at various intervals in their progress (which is what she's doing now). Can I get some quotes from any of you who can do this?

Let's say a quantity of 100, shrink-wrapped, with nice & clean, professional-looking artwork (but nothing too outrageous in terms of graphics) on the cover, printing on the cd (no paper labels), no mastering would be needed for something like this, so no need to include that in the pricing. This is for regular audio CD's that can be played back on a standard CD player , and please specify if it's duplicated or replicated in your price quote. Give me an idea of variances between B&W & 4-color artwork if you can handle either or both.

We'd also need a UPC code since she may decide to make them available for sale online at a later date, as well; so please include that in your pricing.

Send your pricing to me at:

neil DOT henderson AT sbcglobal DOT net

Thanks!

Neill got a bunch of Quad a while back from some some friends in the biz for a great deal. I'd have to say it is kind of a pain to put cables together with it. So I would have to agree that unless you have an RF problem you might want to go with something else. Quality cable though.
