I love summer.

We shot a big summer festival last weekend (80k people). One of the acts was Steve Winwood who has been around approximately forever. He sounded great, and he and his band even dug out some of old Traffic stuff.

Despite the heat (around 100f), it was a really fun shoot.

Just felt like sharing...

Cheers,

-Jamie

I hear an aging rocker who has no high end left on their vocal range (like Joni) and sometimes think, I guess that's what's ahead for all of them.

And then I remember Winwood. I haven't heard him recently. Does he still sing like he's 15?

Winwood is my all time "rock star hero"... He wrote his first hit song at age 15 with the Spencer Davis Group...He really kept his head straight,and didn't sell out "ala" Phil Collins, Eric Clapton, Elton John, etc, etc...He does still have an incredible voice, and his new stuff harkens back to early Traffic days

They did Low Spark. Great energy in that one.

He sang effortlessly for most of the show. He seemed to get into a little trouble mid-set on one song. It was a hot, dry, windy and dusty outdoor show so I'm giving him a pass for that moment. He was fine after that.

I guess Clapton and Winwood "patched things up" after a big 3 decade "fallout", and "Blind Faith" reunion...

I remember reading a Rolling Stone article at the time of Blind Faith where the writer hung out at the studio and talked to Clapton, who seemed quite depressed. Talking about Winwood, he said something to the effect that "the guy writes great songs, sings great, plays great keyboards, bass, and even guitar. What do they need me here for?"

Heh.

Yeah, Winwood started out on B3 and switched to guitar for a while, than back to B3.

The only time I saw Winwood (with Traffic, at Winterland) he spent the whole night playing bass and singing. And, of course, he was very very good at it.

yes. Fender bass it was. I was kinda ticked off because I wanted to hear him play keys. My initial memory is that he played bass all night.

I was thinking this was post-Dave Mason but now that I think of it Mason was playing guitar. I think. Wood played some keys as well as woodwinds. Hmmm. Think Mason played some organ, too.

I do remember that most of the night -- perhaps all of the night -- Winwood played bass guitar. Maybe he did John Barleycorn on acoustic guitar as an encore, and I think piano on Low Spark.

Man. I haven't thought about this in decades. It's nice to know some of those brain cells are still there.

hey, Bill, it dawns on me that I haven't shown you guys lately what I've been up to.

This is at a local middle school, on the left side and part of the front of the main administration building.

Steve,

Man you are good! That looks incredible.

I have some isos that need some art like that.
That's just so cool.
