though i haven't heard all of it i guess you'd have to hear what was said on the other side...mom included...never mind the fact it was posted for the world to hear...i'm just saying...hollywood divorces don't have to be nastier but they sure get to be more public. parents have a tendency to manipulate kids when they feel it's to their advantage.

Let's get a pool together and buy her a Glock 9 for her 18th birthday.

What a guy huh?

Still, why did Kim release that to the public?

yikes!

We look up at celebrities and expect that they have these sparkling and oh-so-interesting lives...

Often the opposite is true.

hey, on the news here a while back they said that 10 is the new 15.
so if she's 12 (or 11+) that's close enough...don't ya think???

This, like many situations, calls for a little Philip Larkin.

This Be The Verse by Philip Larkin

They fuck you up, your mum and dad.
They may not mean to, but they do.
They fill you with the faults they had
And add some extra, just for you.

But they were fucked up in their turn
By fools in old-style hats and coats,
Who half the time were sippy-stern
And half at one another's throats.

Man hands on misery to man.
It deepens like a coastal shelf.
Get out as early as you can,
And don't have any kids yourself.

TCB

P.S. My parents split up when I was 13, so I've traded divorce war stories with friends and girlfriends for years. On a scale of 1 to 10 with 10 being the worst the Baldwin phone message is about a 2.5. Whoever released it did probably an 8.
