
Subject: Thinking about selling my PARIS rig
Posted by Sascha Duex on Sun, 24 Sep 2006 13:10:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi all,

since 15 month I haven't used my PARIS - I still love it, but I'm not recording live band stuff at the moment, I've got my Cubase/RME mobile stuff that I use with my laptop alot, and I need money. So I think about selling, but I'm still kinda undecided ...

Anyway, what do you guys think would be a decent price for the whole rig?

Here's what I've got:

PARIS v3 Software

2 EDS-1000 cards

1 Control 16 (black)

1 MEC (black)

1 8-In Card (black)

1 ADAT Card (black)

1 PC, Windows ME, with Athlon 1 GHz, 384 MB RAM and 30 GB HD (not 100% sure about the RAM and HD size, could be more; fan is quite loud)

PARIS is installed on the PC and ready to go. Everything is in good condition. MEC and C-16 come in their original boxes, EDS cards mounted in the PC, MEC cards mounted in the MEC. I would not sell pieces, only the whole rig.

Once I have decided if I'll really sell and at what price, I'll put it in the forsale group, of course. This posting is rather a request to help me make my decision than a "for sale" posting, that's why I put it here.

Thanks,

Sascha
Cologne/Germany
