He didn't abandon Paris, just the newsgroup. :-)

I saw that too. Auralex uses a picture of that studio in their ads also. Sounds like a nice facility.
