As you all probably know, Im the one that loaded XP on my computer a couple of weeks ago and so far all Hell has broken loose. I follow the instructions "exactly" but maybe im still doing something wrong. I am not a computer person. Every time I exit Paris I get a Paris.exe error and my screen locks up on me. Someone help me walk through this and I will pay you. As you can probably tell I am very frustrated at this point.

Thanks in advance
Ken

Sounds to me like you don't have the FX subsystem installed correctly... try following these instructions again paying closer attention to the FX subsystem installation. That one got me once as well... it pretty easy to mess up.
