OK, so I just bought Mike's driver. Ordered some long video and scsi cables. Downloading like crazy for when the cables get here and I can start installing.

So I went o ParisFAQ's to look for instructiosn on installing Paris on XP, to grab a copy of PafWav, and some other things.

Whole lot of breakin' goin' on.

Is there another source for this info? Most of the links I clicked on give me "file not found" errors.

thanks.

In fact, almost every single link I clicked on was broken. It's like all that exists is the home page.

Doug moved to another server, and the FAQ links haven't been updated to reflect the new directory structure. This thread here will give you the Secret Code Phrase necessary to unlock the PARIS goodness that lingers

Duh. Forgot about that.

Hell, it was late, I was tired. Will give it another try tonight.

Thanks.
