
Subject: RIP - My Dad

Posted by Don Nafe on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 00:54:17 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hey All

I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him, which was more than once.

I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when others were eating hamburger"

I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was magical would be an understatement.

Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful for that day.

In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days his body finally gave out.

I will miss the old fart.

Peace

Don

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad

Posted by Rob Arsenault on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 01:15:09 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Very sad to hear this Don, peace and love buddy.

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418\$1@linux...

> Hey All

>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed

> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his

> Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life

> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

> which was more than once.

>

> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when > others were eating hamburger"

>

> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he

> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major > heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his

> respect

> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were

> all

> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the

> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my

> two > uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and

bass

> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my > grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was > magical would be an understatement.

>

> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with > him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt > about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful for > that day.

>

> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days his

> body finally gave out.

>

> I will miss the old fart.

>

> Peace

>

> Don

>

>

>

>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad

Posted by Tom Bruhl on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 01:24:59 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

This is a multi-part message in MIME format.

-----=_NextPart_000_0013_01C68A78.D46ADE80

Content-Type: text/plain;

charset="iso-8859-1"

Content-Transfer-Encoding: quoted-printable

Don,

Your dad sounds like one hell of a fella. You're a lucky man to have had him as a father. Remember all that matters.

I'll think of both of you tonight.

Tom

"Rob Arsenault" <mani2@NOSPAMnbnet.nb.ca> wrote in message = news:44877710@linux...

Very sad to hear this Don, peace and love buddy.

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418$1@linux...

> Hey All

>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed

> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made = in

life

> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed = him,

> which was more than once.

>

> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor = sax was

> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late = 40's and

> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to = huge big

> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table = when

> others were eating hamburger"

>

> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big = band

he

> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from = major

> heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect

> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west = to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families = were

all

> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding =
the > whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every = musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on = sax, my
two > uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar =
and
bass
> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the = room was
my > grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it =
was
> magical would be an understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to = sit
with > him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly =
felt > about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on = showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. = Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly = grateful
for
> that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 = days
his
> body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

I choose Polesoft Lockspam to fight spam, and you?

<http://www.polesoft.com/refer.html>

-----=_NextPart_000_0013_01C68A78.D46ADE80

Content-Type: text/html;

charset="iso-8859-1"

Content-Transfer-Encoding: quoted-printable

<!DOCTYPE HTML PUBLIC "-//W3C//DTD HTML 4.0 Transitional//EN">

<HTML><HEAD>

<META http-equiv=3DContent-Type content=3D"text/html; =

charset=3Diso-8859-1">

<META content=3D"MSHTML 6.00.2800.1400" name=3DGENERATOR>

<STYLE></STYLE>

</HEAD>

<BODY bgColor=3D#ffffff>

<DIV>Don,</DIV>

<DIV>Your dad sounds like one hell of a = fella. =20

You're a lucky</DIV>

<DIV>man to have had him as a father. = Remember=20

all that matters.</DIV>

<DIV> </DIV>

<DIV>I'll think of both of you = tonight.</DIV>

<DIV>Tom</DIV>

<DIV> </DIV>

<DIV> </DIV>

<DIV> </DIV>

<BLOCKQUOTE=20

style=3D"PADDING-RIGHT: 0px; PADDING-LEFT: 5px; MARGIN-LEFT: 5px; = BORDER-LEFT: #000000 2px solid; MARGIN-RIGHT: 0px">

<DIV>"Rob Arsenault" <<A=20

=

href=3D"mailto:mani2@NOSPAMnbnet.nb.ca">mani2@NOSPAMnbnet.nb.ca> = wrote in=20

message <A = href=3D"news:44877710@linux">news:44877710@linux...</DIV>Very sad=20

to hear this Don, peace and love buddy.

"Don Nafe" <<A=20

href=3D"mailto:dnafe@magma.ca">dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message = <A=20

href=3D"news:44877418$1@linux">news:44877418$1@linux...
> =
Hey=20

All
>
> I thought you should know that my Dad finally = passed away=20

from complications
> due to ALS. He put up one helluva=20

fight
>
> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from = the old=20

school yet he mellowed
> with the times and was a complete = push over=20
when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed = with many=20
of the choices I made in
life
> but respected me for pursuing = them and=20
was always there when I needed him,
> which was more than=20
once.
>
> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician = in his=20
day. Tenor sax was > his axe of choice but he could wail on = piano and=20
during the late 40's and > early 50's had at least three bands = going,=20
from little combo's to huge big > band jazz bands. As he used to = say "it=20
kept roast beef on our table when > others were eating=20 hamburger"
>
> I had the privilege of playing with him in =
the=20
eighties when the big band
he > was in needed a fill in = drummer while=20
their drummer recovered from major > heart surgery...very cool = time=20
indeed and I do believe I earned his
respect
> as a musician, =
I know=20
my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
> Another = amazing=20
music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend =
my=20
cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families = were
all >=20
there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding=20
the > whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out = every=20
musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to = jam...Dad=20
on sax, my
two > uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins = were on=20
organ, guitar and
bass
> and I was on the drums....and there = sitting=20
in the corner of the room was
my > grandmother...with tears = of joy=20
running down her cheeks...to say it was > magical would be an=20
understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into =
the=20
hospital I got a chance to sit
with > him and do that Father = and son=20
thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt > about him no matter =

>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

>which was more than once.

>

>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when

>others were eating hamburger"

>

>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he

>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major

>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect

>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all

>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the

>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my

two

>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass

>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my

>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was

>magical would be an understatement.

>

>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with

>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt

>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing >emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears

of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by [Deej \[1\]](#) on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 01:57:41 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

You said it better than I could have. We still have so much to learn from that generation. Incredible bravery and humility and they are starting to disappear now. My Dad passed away in 2001.

Hang in there Don. We'll be thinking of you here.

Deej

"James McCloskey" <excelsm@hotmail.com> wrote in message
news:4487807d$1@linux...

>
> Hey Don, I'm vary sorry to hear about your loss. He sounds like he was a > great guy! They just don't make them like that anymore, they were the generation
> that made this country great!
>
> I went through it in 2000 with my dad, we also got to bond a bit. I've got > to say, it was hardest on my mom, she lost the love of her life. I'll pray
> for you and your family.
>
> Peace
>

> James
>
>
> "Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:
> >Hey All
> >
> >I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
>
> >due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
> >
> >My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
>
> >with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
> life
> >but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
>
> >which was more than once.
> >
> >I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
>
> >his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
>
> >early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
>
> >band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when
>
> >others were eating hamburger"
> >
> >I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
> he
> >was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
>
> >heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
>
> >as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
> >
> >Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
> all
> >there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
>
> >whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my

> two
> >uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and
bass
>
> >and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
> my > >grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
>
> >magical would be an understatement.
> >
> >Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit
with
>
> >him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
>
> >about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing
>
> >emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears
> of
> >sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
> for
> >that day.
> >
> >In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
> his
> >body finally gave out.
> >
> >I will miss the old fart.
> >
> >Peace
> >
> >Don
> >
> >
> >
> >
> >
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Carl Amburn on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 03:04:22 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Sorry to hear that Don. Sounds like you were very lucky to have him.

-Carl Amburn

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418$1@linux...

> Hey All

>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed

> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his

> Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life

> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

> which was more than once.

>

> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when

> others were eating hamburger"

>

> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he

> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major

> heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect

> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all

> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the

> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical

> instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two

> uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass

> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my

> grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was

> magical would be an understatement.

>

> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with

> him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt

> about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing

> emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of

> sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful

for
> that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
> body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Edna Sloan on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 04:05:01 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Very sorry to hear. I was very traumatized when my dad passed. God bless, Edna

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418\$1@linux...

> Hey All
>
> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from
complications
> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he
mellowed
> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
life
> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
> which was more than once.
>
> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when > others were eating hamburger"
>
> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he

> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major > heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his
respect
> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all
> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two > uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and
bass
> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my
> grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
> magical would be an understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit
with
> him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
> about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
> that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
> body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by DC on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 04:40:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My Dad passed a couple of years back...

He saw the famous Sinatra / Goodman show at the Paramount in NYC that launched Frank's career, and actually met Frank on the street before the show. Was a jazz fan in NYC all through the 30's to the 50's, a time I can only dream of. Worked 3 jobs to send us to college so we could come home and tell him how dumb he was...

I will tolerate about 1/10 of the crap from my kids that he put up with from me... He guarded German POW's in WWII. I play with audio gear...

And yeah, he was still a PITA bigtime.

He had quite a life, my dad.

It's hard, man. I will see him again though.

Best wishes to you and yours in this difficult time.

DC

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Neil on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 04:52:15 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Wow, Don... sorry to hear that. Thanks for letting us know him just a little bit by posting what I thought was a great tribute to your dad.

Neil

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by LaMont on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 05:21:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I sorry to hear about that Don.. My consolence to you and your family..LaMont

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:

>Hey All

>

>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

>which was more than once.
>
>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when

>others were eating hamburger"
>
>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he
>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major

>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect

>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all
>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the

>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two
>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass

>and I was on the drums...and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my
>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was

>magical would be an understatement.
>
>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with

>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt

>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing

>emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears
of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Kim on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 08:05:32 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I don't know what to say.

Thinking of you and yours.

Cheers,
Kim.

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:

>Hey All
>
>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed

>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

>which was more than once.

>
>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when >others were eating hamburger"
>
>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he
>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all
>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two
>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my
>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
>magical would be an understatement.
>
>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing >emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears
of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days

his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Sarah on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 08:29:16 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Condolences, Don,

I helped care for and befriended a local jazz trumpeter named Richard Burdell during his ten year struggle with ALS. That's a very rough thing for a family to deal with.

Hugs,

Sarah

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by rick on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 08:44:46 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Don,

both candy and i send you our condolences for your loss. your letter proves that it is never to late to say the things that need to be said. i'm glad that you and your father were able to share your long known but seldom spoken truth

peace
rick

On Wed, 7 Jun 2006 20:54:17 -0400, "Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:

>Hey All
>

>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
>which was more than once.
>
>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when >others were eating hamburger"
>
>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he
>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all
>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two
>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
>and I was on the drums...and there sitting in the corner of the room was my
>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
>magical would be an understatement.
>
>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing >emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of >sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad

Posted by Jamie K on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 10:57:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hey Don,

Very sorry to hear about your loss. Thanks for giving us an insight into your dad's life.

In addition to your musical talents, you are a compelling writer. Just two of many reasons for him to be very proud of his son.

Cheers,

-Jamie

<http://www.JamieKruz.com>

Don Nafe wrote:

> Hey All

>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life
> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
> which was more than once.

>

> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when
> others were eating hamburger"

>

> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he
> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
> heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all
> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two
> uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my
> grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was

> magical would be an understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
> him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
> about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful for
> that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days his
> body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Tyrone Corbett on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 14:00:09 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My sincerest condolences on the loss of your father.

Tyrone

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by [John \[1\]](#) on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 15:15:23 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Don,
My deepest condolences to you and yours. I only hope I get the chance to tell my Dad how I really feel. It's tough being sentimental with these old farts but we love them dearly. I'm sure your Dad was extraordinary.

godspeed,
John

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:
>Hey All

>
>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
>which was more than once.
>
>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big >band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when
>others were eating hamburger"
>
>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he
>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all
>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two
>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my
>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
>magical would be an understatement.
>

>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing >emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears
>of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
>for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
>his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Pete Ruthenburg on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 15:18:21 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Peace to you and your family Don.

Pete

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:

>Hey All
>
>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
>life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

>which was more than once.
>
>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big >band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when
>others were eating hamburger"
>
>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he
>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all
>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two
>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my
>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
>magical would be an understatement.
>
>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing >emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears
of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
>that day.

>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by [jef knight\[1\]](#) on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 15:35:02 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi Don,

Nina and I, our hearts are with you, and your family, today. Much empathy. Much sympathy.

Peace

jef & nina knight

Don Nafe wrote:

>Hey All
>
>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
>which was more than once.
>
>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when
>others were eating hamburger"

>

>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he
>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all
>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two
>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my
>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
>magical would be an understatement.

>

>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing >emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of >sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful for
>that day.

>

>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days his
>body finally gave out.

>

>I will miss the old fart.

>

>Peace

>

>Don

>

>

>

>

>

>

>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad

Posted by EK Sound on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 15:44:16 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My heartfelt condolences to you and yours.

Regards,

David.

Don Nafe wrote:

> Hey All

>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life
> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
> which was more than once.

>

> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when
> others were eating hamburger"

>

> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he
> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
> heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all
> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two
> uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my
> grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
> magical would be an understatement.

>

> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
> him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
> about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful for
> that day.

>

> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days his
> body finally gave out.

>

> I will miss the old fart.

>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Tony Benson on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 17:45:33 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Sorry to hear about your dad's passing Don. My thoughts are with you.

Tony

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418\$1@linux...

> Hey All

>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from > complications due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he > mellowed with the times and was a complete push over when he was around > his Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made > in life but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I > needed him, which was more than once.

>

> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when
> others were eating hamburger"

>

> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
> he was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from > major heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his > respect as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to
> attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were > all there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding
> the whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical
> instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my > two uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and

> bass and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room
> was my grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it > was magical would be an understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit > with him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly > felt about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on > showing emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day.
> Tears of sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly > grateful for that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days > his body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by gene lennon on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 19:14:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Sorry to hear about your Dad. It sounds like he was a good man.
Thinking about you.
Gene

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Ted Gerber on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 21:01:34 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

It's emotionally draining, that's for sure. My wife's Dad passed away a few weeks ago, and my sister died with very little notice a few months before that. Seems like you're processing it well. Take care.

All the best,

Ted Gerber

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:

>Hey All

>

>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed

>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in

life

>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

>which was more than once.

>

>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when

>others were eating hamburger"

>

>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he

>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major

>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect

>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were

all

>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the

>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical

>instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two

>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass

>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was

my

>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was

>magical would be an understatement.
>
>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with

>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt

>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing

>emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears
of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by steve the artguy on Thu, 08 Jun 2006 21:28:05 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

thanks for posting that, Don
It is appreciated. Very much.

-steve

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:
>Hey All
>
>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed

>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

>which was more than once.

>

>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when

>others were eating hamburger"

>

>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he

>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major

>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect

>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all

>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the

>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical

>instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two

>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass

>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my

>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was

>magical would be an understatement.

>

>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with

>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt

>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing

>emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears

of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Dedric Terry on Fri, 09 Jun 2006 00:18:06 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Don - I am sorry to hear about your Dad passing.

Best wishes and condolences, Dedric.

On 6/7/06 6:54 PM, in article 44877418$1@linux, "Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca>
wrote:

> Hey All
>
> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life
> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
> which was more than once.
>
> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when > others were eating hamburger"

>
> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he
> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
> heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all
> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two
> uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my
> grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
> magical would be an understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with
> him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
> about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful for
> that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days his
> body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by emarenot on Fri, 09 Jun 2006 23:43:51 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Peace to you and yours Don.
I'll remember you in my prayers.
MR

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418\$1@linux...
> Hey All
>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life
> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
> which was more than once.
>
> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and
> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when > others were eating hamburger"
>
> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band he
> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
> heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect
> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were all
> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my two
> uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass
> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was my
> grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
> magical would be an understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit
> with
> him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
> about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
> for
> that day.
>

> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
> body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by Rod Lincoln on Sat, 10 Jun 2006 17:52:56 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

My Uncle died of ALS a few years ago. I know it's tough seeing a loved one go through that. I'm truly sorry for your loss.
Rod
"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:
>Hey All
>
>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
>My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed

>with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his >Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
life
>but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,

>which was more than once.
>
>I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

>his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

>early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

>band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when

>others were eating hamburger"
>

>I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he
>was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major
>heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his respect

>as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
>Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to >attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all
>there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the

>whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical >instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two
>uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and bass

>and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my
>grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was

>magical would be an understatement.
>
>Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit with

>him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt

>about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing

>emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears
of
>sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
>that day.
>
>In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
>body finally gave out.
>
>I will miss the old fart.
>
>Peace
>
>Don
>
>
>

>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad

Posted by Don Nafe on Sun, 11 Jun 2006 11:43:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Thank you everyone for your thoughts and prayers, they are truly appreciated

DOn

ps. He sent us a little message that he's doing just fine...and so are we

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418\$1@linux...

> Hey All

>

> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from > complications due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he

> mellowed with the times and was a complete push over when he was around

> his Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made

> in life but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I > needed him, which was more than once.

>

> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was

> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big

> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when

> others were eating hamburger"

>

> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band

> he was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from

> major heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his > respect as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.

>

> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to

> attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were

> all there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding

> the whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical

> instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my

> two uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and

> bass and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room

> was my grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it > was magical would be an understatement.

>

> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit

> with him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly
> felt about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on > showing emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day.
> Tears of sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly > grateful for that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
> his body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad
Posted by [Miguel Vigil \[1\]](#) on Sun, 11 Jun 2006 15:57:32 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

God Bless you and the Nafe family. I'm thrilled you had great musical times to enjoy with your family.

El Miguel

"Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418\$1@linux...
> Hey All
>
> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications
> due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
>
> My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he mellowed
> with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in life
> but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
> which was more than once.
>
> I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax was
> his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's and

> early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge big
> band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when > others were eating hamburger"
>
> I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
he
> was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major > heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his
respect
> as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
>
> Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
all
> there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
> whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
two > uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and
bass
> and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room was
my
> grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
> magical would be an understatement.
>
> Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit
with
> him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly felt
> about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
for
> that day.
>
> In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
his
> body finally gave out.
>
> I will miss the old fart.
>
> Peace
>
> Don
>
>
>
>

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad

Posted by Paul Braun on Mon, 12 Jun 2006 18:29:19 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On Wed, 7 Jun 2006 20:54:17 -0400, "Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote:

>Hey All

>

>I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from complications

>due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight

>

>

>I will miss the old fart.

>

Condolences to you and your family, Don.

Death of a parent is always tough. I know how it is.

And we've got a friend who's dying of ALS right now, so we're learning how to deal with that particularly ugly disease. He's got a remarkable outlook, but it's heartbreaking to watch.

pab

Subject: Re: RIP - My Dad

Posted by uptown jimmy on Tue, 13 Jun 2006 01:49:56 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I wish you the best. I wish I had known beter times with my parents.

Treasure your happy memories. Moments and memories are all we have.

Jimmy

"Miguel Vigil" <nospam@nospam.com> wrote in message news:448c3c3f@linux...

> God Bless you and the Nafe family. I'm thrilled you had great musical times > to enjoy with your family.

>

> El Miguel

>

>

>

> "Don Nafe" <dnafe@magma.ca> wrote in message news:44877418\$1@linux...

>> Hey All

>>

>> I thought you should know that my Dad finally passed away from

> complications
> > due to ALS. He put up one helluva fight
> >
> > My Dad was a tough but fair military man from the old school yet he
> mellowed
> > with the times and was a complete push over when he was around his > > Grandchildren. He never fully agreed with many of the choices I made in
> life
> > but respected me for pursuing them and was always there when I needed him,
> > which was more than once.
> >
> > I can proudly say he was a pretty good musician in his day. Tenor sax
was > > his axe of choice but he could wail on piano and during the late 40's
and
> > early 50's had at least three bands going, from little combo's to huge
big
> > band jazz bands. As he used to say "it kept roast beef on our table when > > others were eating hamburger"
> >
> > I had the privilege of playing with him in the eighties when the big band
> he
> > was in needed a fill in drummer while their drummer recovered from major > > heart surgery...very cool time indeed and I do believe I earned his
> respect
> > as a musician, I know my respect for him increased immeasurably.
> >
> > Another amazing music moment happened when our family went out west to > > attend my cousin's wedding...Dad's two brothers and their families were
> all
> > there, as well as my grandmother...anyway the day after the wedding the
> > whole crew went down to my Uncle's basement, hauled out every musical > > instrument we could get our hands on and started to jam...Dad on sax, my
> two > > uncles were on piano and trumpet, my cousins were on organ, guitar and
> bass
> > and I was on the drums....and there sitting in the corner of the room
was
> my
> > grandmother...with tears of joy running down her cheeks...to say it was
> > magical would be an understatement.
> >
> > Shortly after Dad was admitted into the hospital I got a chance to sit
> with > > him and do that Father and son thing...I had to tell him how I truly
felt

> > about him no matter how hard it was...you see Dad was never big on showing
> > emotion or saying I love you but we sure let it all out that day. Tears of > > sadness, love and joy were shed by the bucketful and I am truly grateful
> > for
> > that day.
> >
> > In the end he refused the IV that was his life support and after 12 days
> > his
> > body finally gave out.
> >
> > I will miss the old fart.
> >
> > Peace
> >
> > Don
> >
> >
> >
> >
>
>
