About half an hour ago I was eating dinner and I heard what could only be described as a big explosion right outside our door. I grabbed a flashlight and ran outside and there was this drunk moron crawling out of his car. Miraculously, only a couple of scratches on him. My neighbor across the street saw him sideswipe two cars down the road about 100 yards and then start to accelerate away when the big black bear that has been hanging around here got scared by the noise and ran across the road. The guy swerved, overcompensated and rolled his car.

Luckily the bear is OK and this hole is on his way to jail.

The bear may have saved someone's life. Pretty effective drunk driving enforcement. ;-)

Glad no one was hurt.

This guy was so zoned that he asked me if I would help him push his car back up on it's wheels so he could drive it away before the cops came.

Hey Dj, you should have told him to forget the cops, he'd better get the hell out of there before the bear came back.

By the way, was his last name Kennedy?...Sorry , it's an Irish joke;)

At least you had some excitement for the night. Glad everybody is alright.

I sorta' know the deputy sheriff who came out to investigate this. This driver has an atrocious driving record. It's very likely that his license is going to go bye bye this time.

I'm getting seven-hundred popups & no pictures... no wonder these file servers of that type are "free".

Jesus Christ!

Starting virus scan now.

Somebody told me that the penalty for drunk driving in El Salvador is a firing squad. I'm not sure that's a bad idea . . .
