I just installed a new MoBo as per recommendations here an G K8NS. I have moved my PARIS card to and from many different Comps and never had a problem. Not so now. When I go to start the splash screen comes up followed immediately by cannot initialize error code 1/1. In checking my card it seems to not be completely seated but it is as far as it can go. Might I have to shim the MoBo a little. It's not very much, maybe 1/16 of an inch. What else could it be. Thanks Jim
