OK everyone......its me again. It seems like I got Paris working on my XP computer, but right before paris launches, I get a "Paris.exe error can not find the cwplugin.dll. Does anyone know what this mean? I hit OK 4 times and paris launches, but I would like to fix the problem.

that appears to be a cakewalk extension. Remove the associated vst or dx plugin that can't find the dll and it should go away.

No, in the case of: "cwplugin.dll", the "CW" stands for "Christopher Walken", and what that plugin does, when activated, is to begin streaming audio clips from the famous SNL skit, of Will Ferrell playing cowbell, in perfect time to your track. It also subliminally injects various random quotes by Christopher Walken from that same skit, such as "I've got a fever... and the only thing that can cure it, is MORE COWBELL!",

Can really save a bad or marginal track... you should really keep that one.
