Quick and dirty guitar production for $99.00!

Considering it also serves as a portable USB audio interface I'm thinking it's a buy. I would use it for demoing/writing/reamping. I'm not a guitar player, but it might help me learn to play better also.

Let me know what you guys think of the sound and capabilities.

Check out the sounds.

Oh yeah, I forgot to mention it has a built in tuner, editing software and a drum machine that sounds useful.

Drum machine sounds/beats.

hey James.. I have few Digitech machines and they are great for production. They excel at the crunch and burn sounds.. They tend to be a bit (for me) on the clean stuff, but they will work in a mix.. Nice work..

I do wish they would make a unit that does not have the "amp modeling" ..Just the Fx..

I believe you can turn off the AMP modeling and cabinet simulators.
