It's working well. I've now got Reaper sending back messages and turning on the C16 arrow lights. I have a lot of work to do yet, but the basic building blocks are there.

I'm able to make very slight adjustments to the fader positions. The full 1024 values are definitely being sent.

The only down side is that it is a lot harder to work with than MIDI. I have to parse a bunch of strings in the callback. But, it's going to work.

All the best!

Mike

There you go again Mike, working out another way to keep PARIS hardware out of the landfills.
