Nice work, Mike.

This sounds very promising, even though I'd be happy with just 16 bit.

I still love the Paris software, but it is very picky with some plugins, which can crash Paris. I am using WIN7 64bit, but these issues existed with XP 32bit as well.

Looking forward to trying the ASIO driver with my next favourite DAW, Samplitude. (Native inserts on submixes would be joyous!!)

I'd stick with the Paris software if I could even do something as simple as strapping an external compressor, or even better a native plugin, on one EDS submix, (not just the global mix..)but alas this is a hard wired limitation.

Keep us posted.

Kim
