I use HostIP.info Geolocation Plugin add on for fire fox, and it displays that Paris is from an unknown city/country/coord.

Link is here if you want to add yourself to the database <http://www.hostip.info/>

I believe the correct info should be salt lake city Utah etc.

This is just one of the many utilities available to give users additional info on the sites they visit, it "Displays IP Trace information when you hover the mouse over a hyperlink, and the IP will show with the country and city the site is from."

Don't know just what you meant by " GeolP suddenly started working again" but you are right about frank! He's a peach!

I'd adopt him.
