What did you say??? I couldn't read your post - could you make your fonts bigger and clip off the upper third of them, please?

:D

I fight this constantly both with friends, bandmates, and the odd client. I always start with a James Brown song like Get on the Good Foot and have the listener watch the meter jump. It helps to use the really bug fancy meter in SX. Then I'll play them an Oasis track. Now I loves me some Oasis, but the meters go up to right below 0 dbfs and stop, waiting there until the song fades out.
