I was given a Chinese no name ribbon to compare to my Shiny Box 46L.

The difference was quite noticeable. The Shiny Box with the Lundahl = transformer had a clearer more present sound than the no name Chinese ribbon. I = also was given a Chinese no name version of the Nady RSM-4. It was = defective. So for $150 my friend got a defective (returnable?) mic and a darker = than you'd want mic. The $325 I spent on the Lundahl was worth it. If you're = buying, consider the Shiny Box because of purely better QC. The Lundahls have = to=20 be a part of this equation. I also ordered a matched pair which = increased the degree of quality control.

Just a heads up for those that want to save a few bucks.

Tom
