Not sure man. I know there has been some problems in the rig that my dude is buying from them though I'm not clear on the details exactly of it.

Just waiting for my transplant date to arrive.

My sister from Colorado is coming in to help with my sister that is the donor' recover after the surgery.

The surgery is Jul 6th and my birthday is the 4th,so it should be a happy birthday for me!

Money order got lost in the mail. I had just moved and gave him the wrong address. I transposed the last number in the address with the street number. I'm a bit dyslexic. I talked to him a week ago but have heard back. I hope he is still interested. Its just setting here ready to go,I even have a set of connective EDS cables for his troubles.
Hope it all works out.

GLad to hear you're ok and it sounds like in good spirits.

Where's the surgery happening?
