I have all the regular black Paris stuff and don't even know what version of Paris I am running. But, I think I kept upgrading until the upgrades stopped.

Would the Paris pro you have be a significant enough of an improvement over what I have and would it run with what I have. Would it work better with XP or Windows 7. If so, I would like to have it. Will Paris Pro and one of your blue C16s work with what I have?

Thankyou. The money I am depositing over the weekend will not be available until Monday morning. I am guessing the C16s look good and work well. I wish could buy all of what you have. But, I have been buying and fixing too much stuff trying to get my studio back up and running. I am starting to thin out on money.
I could also use a few TRS inputs and outs.
I have been looking through this site and can't find the migration guide to 3.0 and XP. Do you have a copy? I may have one buried in my computer because I tried once before. But, I didn't realise you had to be running 3.0. I am at 2.1.
How much will you need for the C16 and software with shipping.
I can deposit in your Pay Pal Monday

Hi Steve. the migration to XP is simple. All i did was get XP running on my machine and simply installed the software following the steps over at Paris FAQ's. Took me like 20 minutes to get it installed and working. Yes, the C16 is in great condition. Check your Messages when you get a free minute.

Jimmy,

Do you still have the (free) IF-442 with a purchase of the EDS1000?
