My question would be...why are they recording that stuff in the US???
They're really not that special at all, most pub bands sound as good, (if not better).
Look at ...

BTW, Grimick are exclusively Paris...everything they've recorded is with Paris, for over 9 years.

Don't know about any tips from the master, but I thought the band was quite ordinary.

There didn't seem to be too many dynamics going on with the playing... It all seemed to be on the same plane with no light and shade on their part and quite boring instrumentation.

I was wondering why they would mix in the US and not in Aus, But I guess they had the tracks with them and they were there..

Good one for you...
