Hey folks,

This is sample of artist in development over at my place. We're having a great time working on singing /arranging techniques and I'd like to share the results.

http://www.qbdigital.com/newpvsample.htm

We've been working on getting the singer controlling the compression while he sings. There are still problems with some popping and sibilance and we'll be working on that.

I know there are better ways to do what we are doing, but I'm still a novice at this.

I'm honored to have good artists to work with and time is always limited.

Thanks for listening.

Lance

Thanks for the compliments.

That's my trusty but rusty Roland HP 1500 digital grand.

The recording is of two performers / writers.

The singer wrote the lyrics and melody.

Best, Lance
