ARRRGH! Alright - tell you what... I'll see if I can get one of the guys in the band I start tracking some stuff with tomorrow night to get a few snaps. That way you can see a typical rawk carnage setup at my facility (such as it is), and maybe a shot of me or two amidst the carnage that you can pick from. OK?

But really, what a good looking bunch o' people, huh? Thanks for setting it up, Paul. It's always fun to see what people look like, especially if you've concocted a mental image of them just from their posts. :)

There's three of DeeJ, two of Art Guy. You're not alone.

Yeah, that's why I did this. I always pictured DeeJ as looking a lot like PeeWee Herman. Or maybe the late, great Larry "Bud" Melman.

And for some reason, I picture Neil looking like Tiny Tim, but with dreadlocks.

And that's what I'm sticking with until he proves me wrong.

Paul

I have some pictures taken from a Paris Dinner a couple of years ago in NYC, with me (Lou Guarino), Gene Lennon, Thad (yes, TCB), Paul Artola, Sakis, Morgan (from East coast sound), and others if you want them I could send them to you to put up on the site. I even have one of Chuck Duffy with Jason Miles.

email me and let me know if you want them. Paul Artola even has more I think.

I've had extensive cosmetic surgery in order to have plausible deniability that I was at that dinner, so keep that in mind if Lou gets through his mail server problems.

Thanks for the nurse picture, Sarah. Only thing is I can't really make out your uniform.

We are so lucky to have you around. I think this is the only audio forum that can boast a beautiful (and talented) woman actually hangs out there. Sure the other sites get the occasional question from some chick, but then she's gone as soon as she finds out the cute little heart shape on the microphone is not the "love song" setting.

You just go on believing that, pally.

But seriously, Hey, dammit, I've been BUSY!!! In any event, one of the guys in this band I'm tracking brought his digital camera yesterday & took a few snaps... now I just need to get him to e-mail them to me & I WILL SEND YOU ONE!

Tomorrow, though, I should have some mp3 files to post... getting some really nice sounds with these guys & the drum kit is coming out fan-freakin-tastic. Tomorrow we're off from recording & resume Friday, so I think I'll have time to post an mp3 or two of the basic tracks with signal chain info for those who might be interested.

Six tracks of rhythm guitars using three amps, bass is nice & thick, and attacky & goopy at the same time, drums are slammin'. Sounds like a mix without even being mixed.

That's the way I like to record!

OK, then... here it is:

<http://saqqararecords.com/MiscAudio/SedationClip-basictrax.m p3>

This is NOT mixed, these are just basic tracks, with a couple of minor tweaks. This clip isn't too long (less than 2 minutes, IIRC) here's the signal chain rundown:

Drums were my Yammy Kit, and we opted for the Joey Jordisson model snare mic'ed with...

Kick = Audix D6/Chandler TG2

Snare = Audix D5/Chandler TG2

Hat = Earthworks TC30/Focusrite ISA 428

Toms = Audix D4's/MOTU 8Pre

OH's = B.L.U.E. Bluebirds/Mucusrite ISA 428

Bass was a Spector 4 string with EMG P'ups through an Ampeg SVT-450 with the classic Ampeg 8x10 cab; mic'ed as follows:

Topmost right side speaker = Rode K2/Avalon 737SP

(6db boost at 3k & 10k on the Avalon, no compression going in)

Left speaker 1 row down from the top = TLM-103/Focusrite ISA 428

Guitar was my Epi Les Paul Standard through the following configurations:

1st Pass.. y-split into two separate amps...

* Randall solid-state head into Randall 4x12 cab, mic'ed with:

Bottom left speaker = SM-57/Great River MP2NV, xfrms loaded

Bottom Right speaker = B.L.U.E. Ball/Grace 101

* My Line6 SpiderII 1x12 Combo set on standard "Crunch" model, mic'ed with:

Audix i5/Focusrite Red8

Sennheiser e609 Silver/Great River MP2NV, transformers loaded

2nd pass (doubling the first pass) was my Sovtek 50W Tube Midget head into a Celestion 2x12 cab, mic'ed with:

Audix i5/Focusrite Red8

B.L.U.E. Ball/Grace 101

Everything went straight into the analog in's on my main RME Multiface except for the ISA 428, which I have the digi i/o card for, and so that went into the lightpipe in's on the main Multiface, and for the MOTU 8-Pre I used the lightpipe out into the 2nd Multiface.

What you're hearing on the tracks as far as processing goes is:

Kick = some multiband comp, no EQ of any kind

Snare = Paris VST EQ... a little 5k & 10k boost

Toms = Paris VST EQ... a bit of a 7k boost

Guitars = Cut about 7db @ 100hz on the 2 Randall cab channels

That's it! Everything else is just as it went to track.

Enjoy.

Neil
