IOW, are you able to slam the stems out of Cubase into the CW DSP and "mix hot" as we can do with Paris?

I'm going to be moving my mom to some new digs this week so I'm at least 10 days away from getting back to the lab. Once the lab is open again, barring unforeseen delays, another DAW with a Gigabyte GA-K8NS Ultra 939 mobo, 2 G RAM and an AMD 64 4800 x 2 CPU with 2 x HDSP 9652's and an HDSP Multiface PCI shall spew forth. I'm gonna be able to do some direct summing comparisons of Paris vs Creamware at that point.
