Gotta throw my spare card in to load up on this effect, though. What a hog.

Peace
Kentl agree, it's about the song.

"Control" - Nice production, good vocals. Love the way the drums feel.
But on first listen it's not hitting me as an example of really amazing, cut above songwriting. Different strokes...

See what you think of these guys:

>Indeed. If you have those extensionless mixes handy you should be able to convert them to wav on any DAW Mac in seconds. You wouldn't have to open the original session and do another bounce.

Assuming they are 24 bit files they are obviously going to be far superior to master with.

Ver 4 Roxio.. yup, that's the one. I broke my installation disk in half so I wouldn't repeat that mistake, and unfortunately a lot of DELL's (with the burners) from that era shipped with it as well. There are patches up on the Roxio site if you decide to stick with that software.
